Early morning, rushed for time, need to start the day off right... seems to be the usual routine. Our idea of a perfect breakfast coffee is that it needs to be “bright and happy”. To achieve this goal we turn to Ethiopia the very birthplace of coffee. Here the natural goodness of the beans will provide the homerun hit that will carry us across the finish line. All we need to do is add a few other naturally compatible beans to round out the morning cup. The hot water brewing through the pour-over smells amazing, the first sip reveals a leading edge that is round and full, bright citrus notes energize the cup, while a floral cherry blossom wafts forth, there are hints of sun-ripe berries and stone fruits finishing with milk chocolate and toasty caramel.
