The wild back country is calling. Out where the air is fresh and crisp, where beautiful autumn leaves are fluttering down creating a colorful carpet beneath the forest canopy. The rugged trail winds up and around out of sight inviting the adventurous of heart... Capturing this scene is our Backwoods Hike Blend. Lively, yet smooth, unpredictable in nature, nuance of green apple and dark chocolate dominate the cup with a hint of ripe plum. The finish is clean with lingering vanilla latte vibes. Crafted from Latin American beans for those who prefer the full city roast style and who like to brew their coffee using regular drip coffee makers. Add a splash of fresh cold cream and picture the trail winding out before you, midst nature's wild beauty.
